Medical College Commencement.

BRILLIANT GATHERING-PRIZES AWARDED-ADDRESS OF REV. DR. EDWARDS.

Mozart Hall was crowded last night with an audience embracing the leading representatives of Richmond's beauty, fashion, and culture. The occasion was the fortieth annual commencement of the Medical College of Virginia. Seats on the platform were occupied by Drs. McCaw, McGuire. Coleman, Joynes, Cunningham, Wellford, Manson, Cullen, W. H. Taylor, West, and H. M. Taylor, of the Faculty, and Drs. James, Skelton, Coakley, Tompkins, Levy, and Moncure, of the adjunct Faculty; Dr. Landon E. Edwards (editor of the Medical Journal), Rev. Dr. John E. Edwards (the orator of the occasion), and by others, including the members of the gradnating class and other medical students. The latter were arrayed in full-dress suits, and presented a most handsome appearance. brilliancy. The beautiful faces and exquisite toilettes of the ladies, the happy countenances of the graduates, and the inspiring strains of music, combined to make the occasion one of bright recollections.

After the opening overture by Kessnich's band, Dr. James B. McCaw delivered a very appropriate introductory address. The RICHMOND, following graduates were then called up and received their diplomas:

Graduates in Medicine: Daniel C. Dickenson, of Pittsylvania; M. Holmes Lewis, Winchester, Va.; Kent Black, Williamsburg, Va.; Rent Black, Williams burg, Va.; Donald McPhail, Charlotte; Meade C. The prize cuted by Mr. William E. Davis, and the deoffered by Dr. Hunter McGuire to the student making the best notes on his surgical lectures (a gold medal) was presented to Dr. Meade C. Kemper, of Richmond. Dr. Kemper's friends testified their appreciation of the merited honor paid him by hearty applause. Dr. McCaw then stated that his part on the programme had been filled, and was about to introduce the orator of the evening, Rev. John E. Edwards, when he was interrupted by Dr. Frank D. Cunningham, who stated that there was another prize to be given. He then proceeded, in a very happy speech, to present to Dr. Landon E. Edwards a handsome silver pitcher as a testimonial from the graduating class of the high regard held for him as a gentleman and a physician, and as an evidence of the value placed by them upon his interesting and instructive lectures on 'Medical Jurisprudence." Dr. Edwards responded briefly and pointedly to the unexpected but not undeserved compliment. Both the donor and the recipient were oudly cheered. Rev. Dr. John E. Edwards was then introduced, and delivered the valedictory address. The address was couched in the usual elegant, chaste, and entertaining style of the reverend gentleman. It was Fellows' Hall Thursday night. RICHMOND MANUPACTURES TO BE SENT THERE FOR EXPIRITION

The prospects are that there will be only our or five exhibits of the manufactures and products of Virginia at the Paris Exposition. New York will have over 300; Pennsylvania nearly 200, and other northern States in proportion. Most of the southern States have shown even less concern about the matter than have we.

Though the Legislature has made no pro ision for encouraging or assisting exhibitors, some enterprising gentlemen of this city have determined that we shall not be altogether unrepresented, and that what we

George & William Gibson, builders, a show-case which, while affording superior opportunity for the successful display of the article he is most directly interested in, will at the same time give visitors some idea of the expertness of our mechanics, the variety of our ornamental and commercial woods, and call to mind our chief agricultural products. The case is of original design, elegant without being unbecomingly showy, and is remarkable for the nicety of the carvings and the beauty of the woods, which are all of na-tive growth, and are left unstained by paint-simply varnished. The space allotted to Mr. Valentine is only 18 by 24 inches, and the show-case will cover it with exactness, while it stands seven feet above the floor. The sub-base is of maple, inlaid with walnut. The United States shield, surrounded by thirteen stars, carved out of walnut, is affixed to the front, back, and each side. The base to the pedestal is of pine, with walnut mouldings. The pedestal is of oak, with panels of pine, mouldings and carvings of walnut. On the front panel is carved the coat-of-arms of Virginia. On the reverse, of like work, is a bundle of corn, oats, wheat, and tobacco in the leaf. On each side of the pedestal is a Durham bull's bead (suggestive of meatjuice), and around it are orchard-grass, blue-grass, and clover. The frame of the show-case resting on the pedestal is of ash; the glasses are of French plate. The shelves are of the same, and placed upon them in pyramidal shape are bottles and packages of meat-juice in all the forms to which it is known to the trade. Upon the topmost shelf is a big bottle containing the article in bulk, and labelled with a silver strip containing the manufacturer's name and trade-mark.

The frieze over the show-case proper is of pine. The word VALENTINE is inlaid in walnut on the front; VIRGINIA, in like manner, on the back. On either side are to be the city yesterday seen the trade-mark-a bird's nest. The cornice is of ash, with walnut carvings of honevsuckles, tulips, &c. It is hoped that this commendable display of enterprise will redound to the substantial advantage of Mr. Lottier, and cause his brands of tobacco to become as famous in the old as they already are in the new world. The case will be shipped to the Exposition via Washington on Monday. Through the courtesy of Mr. John D. Lottier an inspection of the large factory was made. NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA, ATTENDED WITH GREAT PROSTRATION, BOTH PHYSI-CAL AND MENTAL.

CASE OF JOHN P. KEELING, ESQ., STATED BY DR. S. S. KEELING, OF PRINCESS ANNE

COUNTY, VA. Extract from letter dated near London Bridge Va., September 4, 1877.] Va. September 4, 1877.]

"Mr. John P. Keeling suffered from dyspepsia of the most aggravated and distressing form, being subject to violent attacks of spasmodic gastralgla immediately upon taking food into the stomach, which attacks were not at all amenable to treatment. He became so prostrated that it was with difficulty he could walk across his chamber floor, and often had to be lifted about. Such was the state of his nervous system that great solicitude was felt as to his mental condition.

"For eighteen months he was under the treatment of some of the most eminent medical men of Baltimore without benefit. In this very critical condition he came under my treatment. After exhausting all of my resources, and becoming satisfied

Baltimore without benefit. In this very critical condution he came under my treatment. After exhausting all of my resources, and becoming satisfied that medicine was unavailing in the case, I advised the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2. His stomach, however, was in a highly irritable condition, and I found it necessary to administer it in very small quantities; and it was at first given not exceeding an ounce at a dose, repeated at stated-intervals. At the expiration of the third day the irritability of the stomach was decidiv less, and the quantity was then increased from day to day until the thirteenth day, when I found that the patient could take twelve ounces, which I regard as a maximum dose at any time. Persisting in its use, on the twenty-eighth day he was free from pain, the stomach in a normal condition, readily receiving both solids and liquids in moderate quantities, strength greatly increased, and nervous symptoms entirely releved. At the expiration of the seventh week he was able to attend actively and regularly to his business upon the farm. His recovery, which I meard as 5 per case, in advance; of Purcell, LADD & Co., Richmond, at $5.50.
